Fax: +98 21 66494990

Site: http://JPQ.ut.ac.ir

Email: Politics@ut.ac.ir

Indexed at:

- University of Tehran, Informatics Center:
  WWW.ut.ac.ir

- Regional Library of Science and Technology:
  WWW.srlst.com

- Scientific Information Database:
  WWW.SID.ir

- Center of the Professional Press:
  WWW.majalleh.ir

- Iranian Magazines Reference:
  WWW.magiran.com
SUPREME LEADER OF THE ISLAMIC REPUBLIC OF IRAN'S APPROACH TO FOREIGN POLICY WITH EMPHASIS: STRATEGY AND CONCEPT "HEROIC SOFTENED"

Hasan Shamsini Ghaisvand
Assistant Professor, Political Science, Islamic Azad University, Takestan Branch, Iran

Raza Nasiri
Ph.D. Candidate, Political Science, Islamic Azad University, Takestan Branch, Iran
(Received: 16 Dec. 2014 - Accepted: 17 Feb. 2015)

Abstract
The study of the principles and requirements of the leader's “heroic Softened” is the aim of this study which is one of the key concepts and policies expressed Leader in last few years. Initially, the intellectual foundation of the Leader approach to foreign policy is three strategies: leadership, wisdom and interest in foreign policy. According to them, strategy negation relation domineering and submissiveness, the preservation and protection of the identity of the Islamic Republic, maintain the revolutionary Islamic orientation are discussed. Other studied contents are: the conceptual framework as a heroic leader in the negotiation and clarification exercises and the “heroic Softened” of a new field in the international system, field tactics, not strategy “heroic Softened”, field exercises and balance of heroic ideals and practice of negotiation and compromise and flexibility not give up, hoping to stretch heroic vision of the future, heroic flexibility and understanding of the international system in transition, heroic exercise and cognitive abilities and the challenges the country.

Keywords
foreign policy, heroic Softened, international system, supreme leader.

1. CoreSponding author Email: shamsini_h@yahoo.com Fax: +98-028-35270765
FACEBOOK CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES IN THE GLOBAL IMPACT OF SOCIAL CAPITAL, PUTNAM EMPHASIZED THE ISLAMIC REVOLUTION

Seyyed Mehdi Sadatinejad
Assistant Professor, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran
Seyyed Mohammad Hossein Akramiyan
Graduate Student, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran
(Received: 8 Apr. 2014 - Accepted: 10 Jun 2015)

Abstract
Nowadays, social networks play a key role in the study of sociology, social psychology and sociology. Social network Facebook has turned into a virtual system covering more than 900 million people around the world. In Islamic Revolution of Iran as a world revolution, universal definition, it can use as a new possibility. This paper will identify the capabilities and challenges with using Facebook. Putnam's social capital theory of the reflection of a global network for Islamic Revolution in Iran to use Facebook is a social investment. This paper describes an analytical method for identifying ways to use Facebook, globalization providing Islamic Revolution.

Keywords
Facebook, global impact of Islamic Revolution, Putnam Social Capital, social network.

1. Corresponding author  Email: msadatinejad@ut.ac.ir  Fax: +98-21-66409595
PRINCIPLES OF FOREIGN POLICY IN THE POLITICAL TRADITION OF IMAM SAJJAD (PBUH)

Jalal Dorakhshah
Professor, Faculty of Islamic Studies and Politics, Imam Sadiq University, Iran

Jabbar Shojaei
M.A., Faculty of Islamic Studies and Politics, Imam Sadiq University, Iran

(Received: 8 oct. 2014 - Accepted: 10 Jan. 2015)

Abstract
Islam is a comprehensive school and covering some doctrine out of time and place focusing on the issue of foreign policy as a matter of fundamental importance attention. Explaining the behavioral norms of Islam in general subject of foreign policy, in particular in the most perfect expression in the teachings of the Quran and is manifested in the tradition of the household. Accordingly, by descriptive-analytical methods, the authors of the principles of foreign policy vote doctrine of Imam al study were classified and evaluated. On this basis and according to the conceptual framework of the principles of foreign policy, such as the range of human relationships based on Islamic principles, these contents were examined: the principle of mutual respect and non-interference in the internal affairs of each other Amity, tolerance and non-violence, rejecting the domination of domination, oppression rejection of loyalty to the covenant treatie, the enemy of enemies and the next conflict peace-oriented political tradition Imam analis.

Keywords
foreign policy, Imam Sajjad (PBUH), Islamic political tradition.
ISSUES AND METHODOLOGIES’S PROBLEMS IN ASSESSMENT OF THE RESEARCH METHODOLOGIES TO HISTORY OF POLITICAL THOUGHT

Mohammad Abdolahpour-Chenari
Assistant Professor, Political Science, Faculty of Law and Theology, Shahid Bahonar University, Iran

Abdolrahman Alem
Professor, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran
(Received: 26 Sep. 2011- Accepted: 13 Feb. 2012)

Abstract
The purpose of this study was to investigate the problems of methodological research program in the history of political thought appearing valuation methodologies. The claim is that the principles and methodology of the research program evaluate the formation, expansion, and development of methodologies in the area of knowledge. In contrast, this article argues that the research program is not sufficient because the emphasis on the construction logic can provide understanding and assessment of the methodology. Hence, it is in the realm of theory and interpretation to meet numerous methodological problems: Problems within the scope of that program to the issue of the formation of the methodology, as well as during the formation of speech acts do not prescribe significantly. In the realm of theory, political theory after normative ignored and only focused on the causes. In the area of interpretation, it is not able to scale phenomenon as old as innovation and the presence of artifacts and interpretation to distinguish. Because of that, any innovation requires that the phenomena in terms of time in the past is not testable, exploring the phenomenon can not be considered a new interpretation. Therefore, the research program is lack of attention to the internal logic of thought and methodology and involves three problems in methodology, theory and application of that methodology, the interpretation, and to address these issues, which have undergone a fundamental change, not mayhem and adjustments to be temporary.

Keywords
logic construction and internal logic, methodology, political thought, research program.
THE NATURE AND SOCIO-POLITICAL THOUGHTS OF IKHWAN-AL-SAFA

Mohsen Abdollahi1
Assistant Professor, Political Science, Lorestan University, Iran
(Received: 6 Feb. 2012 - Accepted: 7 Jul. 2012)

Abstract
Ikhwan-al-safa and khollan-al-wafa are Islamic philosophers with scientific, religious and goals and viewpoints. Their epistemology is based on Greek philosophy and Islamic principles. According to their opinions, religion was facing corruption and despotism. So, the only way to reform was the Greek philosophy. In political aspect, considering decline, corruption and decentralization in Abbasid’s state or the Islamic empire disintegration, they were against them and tried to make an integrative system according to political values of Islam. So, the study of Ikhwan-al-safa regarding the other movements and revolutionary groups, is more important. These unknown persons, except five, were writing and publishing some treatises about different subjects such as philosophy, ethics, politics and social knowledge in secret. These treatises are the first encyclopedia in the history of Islamic civilization.

Keywords
government, Ikhwan-al-safa, polity, theory of state, treatises of Ikhwan-al-safa.

1. Email: abdollahi.mohsen.politics@gmail.com  Fax: +98 6616200097
THE PROCESS OF POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT IN ISLAMIC REPUBLIC OF IRAN

Mohammad Shafieefar
Assistant Professor, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran
(Received: 6 Oct. 2014 - Accepted: 10 Jan 2015)

Abstract
In indvelopment Countries, revolution has been considered as a means of achieving development. Therefore, from the perspective of political development, the questions are “what is the achievements of the Islamic Revolution and the IRI?” and “what policies and programs applied to achieve the political development?” The findings of this study show that after the establishment of the Islamic Republic and the consolidation of representative institutions, government programs and policies in line with political developments have had a different orientation. The theoretical framework of this paper is that of Lucian Pye’s extremely realistic approach, recognizes the political situation in the country after reaching a certain pleasant aspects of the syndrome that represent modernity and the political development. In this approach, the political development is to increase the capacity of the political system in the face of difficulties and challenges.

Keywords
capacity, equity, human development, Islamic Republic, political development, structural differentiation.

1. Email: shafieef@ut.ac.ir Fax: +98-21-66409595
A THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK FOR CIRCULATION OF ELITES AND ITS IMPACT ON POLITICAL STABILITY

Mostafa Malakootian 1
Professor, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran
Abdullahmid Gholami Neya
Ph.D., Political Science, Shahid Mahalati’s High Education Complex, Iran
(Received: 30 Apr. 2013 - Accepted: 25 Jan. 2014)

Abstract
Stability is one of the necessities of political systems. In other words, every political system needs to stability for reaching its aims. For this, the maintenance of stability is one of the most important sensations of political governors and leaders. Although several factors are important in maintenance of stability, which at this research is in the core, it is the circulation of befitting political elites; i.e. those elites that elect as political management, along with professional capabilities, must have specialities like faithfulness and commitment to essential principles of the system pointed to as befitting indicatives. It is obvious that every political system needs to a kind of elites that are befitting to that system. The concentration of this essay is on the circulation of political elites in an Islamic system like Islamic Republic of Iran.

Keywords
befitting political elites, circulation of elites, political elites, political stability.

1. Corresponding author Email: mmalakot@ut.ac.ir Fax: +98-21-66409595
SOCIOLOGICAL ANALYSIS OF THE CONCEPT OF "LIFESTYLE" IN THE WESTERN AND ISLAMIC CIVILIZATIONS

Hossein Khani

Assistant Professor, Political Science Department, Payame Noor University, Iran
(Received: 16 Jun. 2014 - Accepted: 8 Oct. 2014)

Abstract

However, in the most general way of life refers to the pattern and way of life, like many other social science concepts, theories need backup which determines what depth the issue of "life" and its relation to other issues and concepts. Thus, the main question is “what is the result of social theory and its implementation to "Western lifestyle" contemporary West?” and what is included of the nature of the "Islamic way of life"?” Hypothesis article refers to a range of concepts, such as modern society, late modernity, class system, consumption pattern, and the pattern is fun and leisure, and so on. At the same time positions achievements to epistemology and methodology with regard to the origin of the concept of distinctive is different. This paper describes the methods and techniques of library foundation recognized components and outlined three categories of ontology, epistemology and methodology. It is concept of the different intellectual origins of the "Western" and "Islamic".

Keywords

Islamic, Late modernity, leisure, life style, ontology, Western.

1. Email: khani630@yahoo.com
   Fax: +98-25-37780138
THE RISE AND FALL OF GOVERNMENTS ON BEYHAQI’S HISTORY

Morteza Manshadi
Assistant Professor, Political Science, Ferdowsi University of Mashhad, Iran
Mohsen Azimi Etemadi
Associate Professor, Political Science, Ferdowsi University of Mashhad, Iran

(Received: 30 Apr. 2013 - Accepted: 21 Oct. 2013)

Abstract
The Beyhaqi’s History is one of the most important cultural and historical text in Iran. Beyhaqi had access to documents and information about the way of governance, running of society and political life in the Ghaznavid era. Beyhaqi’s History can be seen as a socio-political history book. Those parts of this book that available now are related mainly to the beginning of the fall of Ghaznavids process. In this perspective, the main question of this research is: “Why the Ghaznavid government fell?” To generalizing the answer, we can come to cause of the fall of all governments. Focusing on politics, this article reviews the problem and factors related to the fall of governments on Beyhaqi’s History, with on interpretive approach and historical method. The feature of Beyhaqi’s History is his careful and attentive analysis of the data. Therefore, this method pleases readers that seek information but do not reduce the desire to find why accidents have happened in history.

Keywords
Beyhaqi’s History, political change, political scene, political social change.
WHEN ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS:
THE HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD OF THE UNITED NATIONS

Bijan Pirouz ¹
Assistant Professor, International Relations, University of Tehran, Iran

Mostafa Zakeri
Ph.D., International Relations, University of Tehran, Iran
(Received: 14 Jul. 2014 - Accepted: 8 Oct. 2014)

Abstract
This article examines the human rights abuses perpetrated by the United Nations missions in places like Kosovo, Congo and Haiti where the United Nations power has been practically comparable to the State power. It will also investigate similar cases of abuses committed by highest-ranking UN officials in New York headquarter and Geneva offices. The violations examined in this article include not just hundreds of documented cases of sexual assaults and rapes, and all kind sexual abuses often of children but also tear gassing students, assaulting international journalists, shooting at women and children and even killing peaceful protestors. The article will show that the terrifying human rights record of United Nations is in fact a result of the structure, nature and belief system of the ruling members and officials of the organization. The article also examines the close affiliation of this belief system with terror networks both before and after the end of the cold war.

Keywords

¹ Corresponding author                  Email: pirouz@ut.ac.ir
                                                Fax: +98-21-66409595
THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVES ON THE ROLE OF IDENTITY IN INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Mohammad Reza Majidi
Associate Professor, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran

Mohsen Azimi Etemadi
Ph.D. Candidate, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran
(Received: 28 Sep. 2014 - Accepted: 27 Dec. 2014)

Abstract
In the scientific research performed during the past two decades, relatively less attention has been paid to the role of cultural factors (compared to material ones) in the international political process. Identity, especially collective identity, is one of these cultural factors which have a considerable role in the definition of national interest and formation of states' foreign policies. This paper's goal is to present an analysis of the concept of identity and its role in the international political process from various existing theoretical perspectives.

Keywords
constructivism, critical theory, identity, international politics, liberalism, post-modernism, realism.

1. Corresponding author Email: mmajidi@ut.ac.ir Fax: +98-21-66409595
EUROPE UNION'S APPROACH TO THE EUROZONE CRISIS

Seyed Davood Aghaie
Professor, Political Science Department, University of Tehran, Iran

Roxana Niknami
PhD. in Regional Studies, University of Tehran, Iran

(Received: 15 Jun. 2014 - Accepted: 6 Oct. 2014)

Abstract
The current financial crisis in European Union is the most critical crisis since its formation in 1957. This course has been developed solutions for it. Speculation suggests that the lack of a definitive solution to the crisis, they will continue. Economy and the euro zone debt crisis is much worse than many predicts. Europe crisis has spread from Greece to Italy and Portugal. Spain, like Ireland is under severe economic pressure. France is not immune from the crisis and the debt rate is rising. This crisis, for many European leaders has been removed from the management. The crisis has now engulfed all of Europe Union. The main problem is the monetary unit area. Protectionist policy in the Europe Union and member states are very important and it will help us in identifying the economic policies of the Union, while the impact of the crisis in Europe is considerable convergence. Therefore, research hypothesis suggests that the EU’s economic and financial crisis in Europe to tackle the euro zone has to consider a combination of protection measures. So, in this paper we try to support these efforts and their impact on the crisis.

Keywords
economic crisis in Europe, economic integration, eurozone, north- south, policy advocacy.
THE IMPACT OF THE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT ON THE DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION IN EGYPT

Ali Ardestani
Assistant Professor; Political Science Department, Semnan University

Hossein Tabrizian
M.A of Economics; University of Semnan
(Received: 4 Apr. 2014 - Accepted: 23 Nov. 2014)

Abstract
It seems that the most significant event during the last two decades in Middle East must be sought in the Arabic Spring. Undoubtedly, this has resulted in many changes in the field of Middle East studies: either theoretical or practical levels. The countries which have a traditional nature, such as the Persian Gulf Monarchies, and a military-bureaucratic nature, such as Egypt, have been severely influenced by the revolutionary movement. However, there are no good prospects for a democratic transition— at least in the short term— since the Movement, especially in Egypt, has been suppressed by the Army. In fact, we must wait for developments in future. The question here is that why, despite the full global support of the democratization process in the Middle East, the region has failed to access a successful transition to democracy and political stability? Or, why exist so highly the authoritarianism and violence? To focus on the Amartya Sen’s theory of development as freedom, this article believes that although they could gain a good level of economic development, but they are grappling with authoritarianism and despotism due to the lack of progress in human development indicators.

Keywords
democratic transition, economic growth, human development, totalitarianism.