

In The Name of GOD

«Genesis» is what comes to mind as we drop the ink in our newfound path.

We hope that this small group of students from the University of Tehran can attract not only the attention of Iranian students who have continuously honored us with their support but perhaps, we'll be able to present our ideas from this small corner of the universe to students all around the globe.

And we hope that we'll be capable of introducing Iranian students to the wonders of the world beyond our great nation and show a glimpse of our vast and beautiful country to other students beyond its borders.

As much as every first step is courageous, there are also many bumps in the road that will end in small and big mistakes. It's our desire that you see beyond these mistakes and help us become better by understanding your point of view and ideas. We are not above criticism, and we shall never be.
